

- expertise, 128, 135; on sukuk musharaka and sukuk mudaraba, 175–76; sukuk sector vs., 173–78; world of Islamic finance, 89; on worldwide sukuk issuance, 175
- usury: Arab Gulf societies and, 36–37; Aristotelian-scholastic critique of, in Abrahamic sacred law, 87–88; Christianity and, 94–95; definition, 88; of delay (ribā al-nasi'ah), 210; ethics of, 97–99; of excess (ribā al-faḍl), 210; Jewish finance, 96–97; Pakistan and moral economists' understanding of, 214–20; preserving ban while accommodating capitalism, 90–91; public conceptions of, 209–22; Quran ban on, 32, 105, 208; Saudi Arabia's juristic understanding of, 210–14; term, 206–7; Marx's formulas for capital and usury as M–M', 97–99
- Uzbek traders in Dubai, 28
- Uzbekistan, Islamic finance, 115
- violations. See policing by shariah law
- Vogel, Frank, on Islamic law's financial applications, 255
- Volvovsky, Hagay, structural holes and brokers, 137
- wakala (agency contract): 178, 252, 293n31; liquidity management, 195
- waqf (Islamic charitable endowment), 72–73
- Wasil Foundation, 278
- Weber, Max: bases of legitimacy of social order, 120; bureaucratic systems of control in modern rational capitalism, 164; “casuistic by-passing” of sacred commandments, 91; enchantment and disenchantment, 280n25; ideal-typical bureaucrat, 184; on Islamic law and capitalism, 142; military-religious argument about early Jewish interpretations of usury mention in Deuteronomy, 287n98; prediction of clash between modern markets and salvation religions, 225; Robert Hefner's comparison of neoliberal capitalism to the capitalism of Weber's day, 258–9; shariah scholars' self-image as “Weberian” technicians, 139
- welfarism. See social welfarism/social welfare/socioeconomic welfare
- Wherry, Fred, performance circuit of economic transaction, 99
- Winchester, Daniel, how actors construct moral lives and selves, 253
- Wittgenstein, Ludwig: Culture and Value, 244; form of life and contrast with Bourdieu's concept of habitus, 245; language game, 245
- World Bank, 21, 227, 273; World Bank Group, 220
- World War I, 74
- World War II, 229
- Wright, Erik Olin, real utopia, 86
- Yaquby, Nizam (Sheikh): as conference speaker, 275; on doctrine of permissibility, 162; on Islamic commercial jurisprudence, 146; market mentality of, 127; on organized tawarruq, 191; on scholarly elite, 9–10; shariah scholar, 136, 185; understanding business, 59
- Yemen, 20, 235, 236, 237; interviews, 271, 272
- Yunus, Muhammad Hasan (Ustaz), shariah governance at Bursa Malaysia, 197
- Zaid Ibrahim & Company, 277
- zakat, 64, 73, 148, 153, 180, 212, 219, 232
- Zaman, Muhammad Qasim, on Islamic juridical authority in the modern age, 259
- Zeghal, Malika: on Islamic education, 124; on Islamic juridical authority in the modern age, 259
- Zelizer, Viviana: on life insurance, 91; on relational work, 138
- Zia-ul-Haq, Muhammad: Bhutto and, 231; Islamization program (1977–88), 219; Jamaat-e-Islami (JI) and, 231–32